

Jupiter Class

Dear Parents and Carers,

Welcome to the new half term! This half term is always my favourite in school. There are so many things to look forward to in these next seven weeks starting with Bonfire Night this week and Remembrance Day next and then the exciting run up to Christmas. I think we all hope very much that we can continue on our more normal path of celebrating these events.

I will continue to teach Jupiter on a Monday morning and Tuesday. Miss Peck will teach the class on a Monday afternoon and Mrs Taylor for the rest of the week.

We will continue to explore our Topic of 'Humankind'- following on from our Geography field trip to Dunwich we will be considering why so much of Dunwich has been lost. In RE we will investigate a number of religious figures from different denominations who are inspirational to their believers and really question why they are found to be so inspirational.

To kick start our Literacy this half term we are actually going to be using a short film to inspire our writing about a little girl's trip to the seaside where she encounters two characters. Our attention then will turn to the version written by Michael Morpurgo of 'The Snowman'.

As I said, so much to look forward to!

Kind Regards

Mrs Last and Mrs Taylor
