

Jupiter Class

Dear Jupiter Parents and Carers,

What a wonderful hot summer we have had! We do hope you have all had a lovely relaxing time and are ready to embrace the new school year as we certainly are. This term Mr Arlow, a fully qualified teacher, will be teaching Jupiter on a Monday and Tuesday and Mrs Taylor will teach on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Our topic this term is Conflict and within this theme we will be exploring World War two. Will this be the last generation who remember WW2? This will enable us to explore strong links in literacy to poetry and in art to colour themes. For instance, in the writing and illustrations of local author Michael Foreman. Our Science topic is all to do with humans – digestion, teeth and food chains. We will be attempting to answer the question; How do teeth affect what humans and animals eat?

We hope to take the children on some educational visits this term before the inevitable Christmas excitement starts to build. Do please contact either of us by email if you have any queries.

Very best wishes for a wonderful academic year, where we will have great pleasure in watching your children grow, mature and become the very best version of themselves that they can.

Thank you for your support.

Mrs Taylor and Mr Arlow
